...He respectfully refers to the following ...
CARD.
...Having examined the New Patent Shaft Coupling, invented by H. E. Hoagland, we feel pleasure in informing the public that in our opinion it is the safest and best method of connecting shafts or tongues to all vehicles that has ever been used. ...
...It dispenses with both bolt or screw and is therefore easily and speedily separated. It rests on Gutta Percha and is entirely free from the rattling so annoying which so often disturbs the comfort of horses. It is easily changed so that the shafts or tongue may be detached in an instant, and is convenient safe and secure. ...
...It is easy to change to the style of coupling generally ... ...
...other vehicles now in use, and with small expense ... ...
...We have come to the conclusion to use this new coupling ourselves and recommend it to all in all cases. We consider it far superior to the Brewster Patent heretofore considered the best in use. ...

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

EASTERN DATES TO JUNE 12.

A Filibustering Expedition

New York June 13.—The World's Havana correspondent writes that the filibuster expedition recently landed its passengers arms and ammunition. The statements made in the Captain General's dispatch of the capture and destruction of the expedition are pronounced exaggerated.

Washington Personals

WASHINGTON June 13.—The President Secretary of the Treasury Secretary of War, Attorney General and Vice Admiral Porter are all absent from the city. The President is expected back Tuesday morning if he does not go to West Point in which case he will be absent next week. Secretary Hutwell is not expected back until Thursday or Friday. Secretary Belknap may return Wednesday. Commissioner Delano is confined to his bed by severe neuralgia and Assistant Commissioner Douglas is acting as Commissioner.

McFarland—Cuban Recognition

CHICAGO June 13.—McFarland, who killed Richardson, is here. He announces his intention of having his wife's Indiana divorce set aside and claims that he has sufficient proof of fraud and perjury to succeed.

The Times special says the majority and minority of the House Committee on Foreign affairs will each two reports on the Cuban question to-day. The majority report declares it to be the duty of the United States to recognize the existence of the contest in Cuba, and to declare and maintain an impartial neutrality giving both parties the same advantages in intercourse and trade with the United States and invites the President to remonstrate against the barbarous manner in which the war has been conducted. The minority submit as a substitute for this proposition a bill making it a misdemeanor to equip ships of war with the intent of being employed in the service of any Emperor, Province or State for the purpose of subduing or otherwise claiming independence and providing for the forfeiture of such vessels. The minority report say they see a reckless force that there is a Cuban revolutionary Government in existence exercising permanent control over any part of the Island, and are constrained to believe that the Constitution and political divisions or control of the Island are mainly on paper; that the insurgents hold no important city or town, and have no capitol, or navy afloat. This shows that there is no government inside the Cuban camps. They look further upon the proposed declaration of neutrality as a concession of belligerent rights which would enlarge powers of Spain against this country. At the same time they believe it to be the duty of the United States to preserve an impartial neutrality between the parties in the struggle and against European sympathy in any portion of the continent. The minority report also recommends the Government to maintain a naval force in Cuban waters to protect the rights of all American citizens.

Law Against "Servile Labor"

CHICAGO June 13.—Officers of the working men's organization are calling the attention of Congress to contracts for Chinese labor just made in Louisiana and elsewhere, and ask for legislation to prevent them. A bill is now before the Senate Judiciary Committee with the title of "An Act to Prohibit Contracts for Servile Labor." It provides that every contract for labor, any part of the consideration for which shall be money for transportation advanced for any alien from any foreign country which provides for a longer period of service than 12 months shall be declared to be a contract for servile labor, and contrary to public policy. It punishes any infraction by heavy fines.

Revenue Statement

CINCINNATI June 13.—The comparative revenue statement, prepared at the Revenue Department, shows a total increase in the collections of the first ten months of the present year over the corresponding time of last year, of over $21,000,000.

The Tribune's special says the members of Congress who are opposed to excessive taxation consider the bill passed on Saturday by the Senate for the extension of the Atchison railroad, most objectionable. By that bill the road will get at a minimum estimate 2,500,000 acres of the best lands in Kansas and Nebraska. Twenty seven Senators were absent when the final vote was taken.

Dispatch from Cheyenne

CHEYENNE June 13.—A meeting of the citizens of this city was held Saturday and a memorial was adopted and addressed to the President in relation to Indian affairs in Wyoming and generally opposed to the views set forth in the late interviews between the Secretary of the Interior and the Red Cloud party.

Heavy storms east of Cheyenne prevent the transmission of dispatches.

CALIFORNIA

From San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO, June 14.—Among the committee of 200 citizens, appointed by Jacob Haith, to make arrangements for the celebration of the 4th of July, are two negroes, but the majority of the committee are supposed to be of Democratic proclivities and naturally disposed to decide against negro participation in the celebration.

The steamer Montana from Panama arrived this morning.

William Houston, Lewis Prough and George Harris all more or less well known in connection with the outside land jumping troubles were arrested this morning on a charge of threatening the life of Deputy Sheriff Green.

A special policeman Dunn was arrested on the charge of robbing a man in a saloon yesterday. Complainant charges that he knocked him down went through his pockets and took twenty dollars.

Weather clear, with a sharp northwest wind blowing.

The China steamer is not telegraphed yet.

SAN FRANCISCO June 14.—The entire crew of the French ship National have been enticed into desertion by boarding house runners, and cannot be found.

Rev. W. H. Milburn is advertised to lecture on "What's Blind Man saw in California."

A young man named Lansing is under arrest for having in possession of a boat stolen from the residence of J. H. Tobin when entered by burglars some weeks since. He has turned up all the other plunder consisting of silver ware etc. buried near the corner of Hurt and Hyde streets.

Mexican news by steamer Montana to-day is unimportant. There are no considerable bands of revolutionists now in the field in any part of the Republic, the largest having broken up into small squads all of which are engaged in highway robberies but are being closely killed off by the government troops and people.

It is thought by many that since the dismissal of the petition for an injunction against the Mercantile Library Lottery on technical grounds the effort to stop it will be abandoned.

The Fourth District Court to-day dismissed the petition for an injunction against the Mercantile Library Lottery on the ground that the action was not properly brought, and the court therefore had no jurisdiction.

More visitors have already reached Yosemite this season than any former one by one year.

Wolf and Kent cated reports of rich gold and silver discoveries in central and south eastern Arizona are estimulating immigration to that district and the Arizona and Sonora exploring and mining company will soon be able to get off their first expedition of one hundred men.

Wm. Anderson and Wm. H. Swain, living in this city until recently, under the firm names of Wm. Anderson & Co. commission dealers, Front street, went to-day in an alley near Mason's saddle shop, Sutter street, Sacramento, Swain charged Anderson with having run away from him with $250. A fight ensued and Swain struck Anderson several times with a shovel, cutting her head and inflicting a frightful wound. Swain was arrested.

Japanese and Chinese political news by the steamship Great Republic which arrived this morning is unimportant. A heavy earthquake visited Yokohama accompanied with loss of life. Fire was extinguished and at 8 on May 13th. The volcano Asahyama in the province of Simshu is in eruption for the first time in 400 years. A village near it has been destroyed but no lives lost.

A burlesque picture of the Mercantile Library lottery including the faces of many well known citizens after Thump's style has been brought out to-day and creates much amusement on the streets.

Mining Stocks.

Stocks closed firm, generally at an advance but sales not large. Treasure Hill Chariot 12, Solar, 30, Monday 24, Kentucky 91, Jacket 46, Curry, 72½, Overman 38, Occidental 9, Ophir 41½, Imperial, 90, Savage 43, Challar, 24, Point, 10½, Northern Nevada 8½.

Yreka Dispatch

YREKA June 14.—W. Mallory within the past few days discovered a very rich gold bearing quartz lode about one mile north of this place. The circumstances of the discovery are somewhat peculiar. He has for the past seven years labored patiently with no other encouragement than the mysterious workings of the Divining Rod which indicated to him that a saddle shaped lead of silver lode half mile in extent lay snugly wrapped up in the mountain. He has evidently struck the golden pommel of the saddle the first substantial indication of the immense wealth of the hill. The rock crushed in a mortar, has yielded an average of $17 to the pound. Visitors are excluded from the mine.

THE WEST

The municipal election at Hamilton (White Pine) Nevada, took place on the 6th inst. The Republicans were victorious by 100 majority.

A deep lake situated near Deer Lodge Montana having an area of about sixty acres, is rapidly filling up and it is believed will soon disappear.

Wells Fargo & Co's bullion shipments from White Pine for May foot up $179 204 84 of which $121 212 4 was shipped West but the balance last. The shipments of the past week were $11 556 03.

In the Idaho Penitentiary the prisoners occupy their time with Bible classes whereupon a local newspaper says that the "moral atmosphere inside the walls is of a far higher tone than that of the rest of the Territory."

A new political organization has been effected in San Francisco, for the avowed purpose of "sustaining good men, that will maintain good laws and government, independent of party machinery and to take any action on public questions that is not in violation of law."

The Bulletin says: It is astonishing how fast San Francisco is expanding and improving in the face of all the croaking one hears. There never was a time in its history when such grand projects were under way or when the improvements in progress were of such a permanent character.

W. H. Aspinwall the well known merchant and ship owner of New York who is now visiting various portions of California, has ordered through Messrs. Badger and Lindenberger, a large quantity of Oregon and California blankets. The Oregon blankets are manufactured at the Wallamet Woolen Mills, and the California blankets at the Pioneer Woolen Mills.

A San Francisco paper says: "The Steamer Ajax has just arrived with mails and passengers from Honolulu and Australian ports. The Ajax made the voyage to Honolulu in a little over nine days and returned in thirteen days and a few hours. She exchanged Australian passengers at Honolulu with the steamer City of Melbourne which was to sail on May 24th, on her return to Australia."

C. W. Gridley says the Butte (Cal.) Record, has sheared the present season, nineteen thousand sheep. Sixteen thousand of these, it is estimated, will average five pounds to the fleece. A total of 84,000 pounds or 42 tons. This is the clip for the year, and is held at twenty five cents per pound amounting to $20 750. We understand that Mr. Gridley expects to realize that figure in San Francisco, or ship his wool east.

A correspondent writing from Salt Lake City gives the following: "I witnessed a sight this morning which I will describe, but the circumstance is probably not a fair one from which to draw general inferences. An old farmer drove into the city with a load of country produce for sale. Seated with him were two women, one on either side. One of these damsels was old and wrinkled, the other much younger, but decidedly the worse for wear—the female had an infant in her arms. Upon the back seat were two young women and a half grown boy. Both the women carried babies. I of course, supposed that this party was composed of father, mother and children. Judge of my surprise when I learned that the old man was the husband of all four women, and the old woman was the mother of the young ones. Think of it! One man married to a mother and three daughters! At first I could not believe that human nature could become so degraded, but on inquiry of a well known Mormon I learned that the facts were precisely as at first stated to me."

WEDNESDAY MORNING JUNE 15 1870

Don't Like the Figures

The Herald don't want any comparison made between the result of the recent election and that of two years ago. It insists that the Presidential election of 1868 shall be taken as the sole basis of comparison. We do not wonder that the Democratic organ is a little sore and testy on this point. For a comparison of the result of this election with that of the last corresponding election held in this state is unpleasantly suggestive of the fate that is in store for the Herald's party in 1872.

The result of the Presidential election would afford some data for comparison if there were no more accurate data at hand. But it will strike every one that the only accurate way of making a comparison in this case is to take for the purposes of such comparison the result of the last election corresponding with this one. The Herald says:

> the Republican papers a few weeks ago thought the Presidential election a good place to figure from, and if it was a good place then it ought to be a good place now. Or if it is allowable to skip elections and go back to find a point to calculate gains from, why not select the election of June, 1862, or 1864, or 1866? This is mere trifling. Whatever any other Republican papers may have done we have not figured wholly from the Presidential vote as a basis. On the 18th of May we said: 'To overcome a majority of 1 200 (the Democratic majority in the last general election), is no small job to accomplish unless it were aided by a general revolution in political elements.' In comparing present results with the result in June, 1868 we 'skip' no election that corresponds with the one just held, but put the comparison on the only accurate basis it can have.

It is true that in the Presidential election which took place in November 1868 the Democratic majority in the State was only 165, against 1 200 in the election that occurred in June preceding, and that considerable change upon issues then existing was manifested in this reduction of the Democratic majority. Yet the Democratic strength was not fully polled in the Presidential election, for the reason that all Democrats knew that their votes would be thrown away and that Grant would certainly be elected. While it is true that a comparison may be made between this election and that which would be some indication of the relative strength of parties, yet it is obvious that such a comparison would not fully meet the conditions of the case, and that to meet them fully the last election corresponding with the present one should be taken as a basis of calculation.

And now what is the comparison between the figures on member of Congress in the election just held and the figures on the member last elected? The full returns are not yet received, but we have them from three-fourths of the State. Thirteen counties embracing all west of the Cascade mountains except Josephine, Coos Curry and Tillamook, give 9,120 Republican, and 8,807 Democratic votes. The same counties in the last election for member of Congress gave Logan 8,510 and Smith 8,835. It will be seen therefore that Slater's vote, so far as the counties have been fully reported, is actually smaller than the vote in the same counties for Smith in 1868, while the vote for Wilson shows a considerable increase over the vote for Logan. This fairly indicates that the addition to the vote of the State is all on the Republican side—and indicates what will become of the Democracy by 1872, under the present increased influx of immigration.

California papers are forced to admit that the prospect of an overplus of agricultural products in that State this year are very encouraging enough. But the San Francisco Bulletin tried to console itself over the certain prospect of a short crop by clamming that the chances are favorable for getting as much for the crop, from the enhancement of its price, as if it were large. "Dependence upon foreign markets," says that paper, "is leaning on a broken reed. Our surplus for foreign export, if excessive, is always a disappointment and sometimes a damage." The Bulletin, we believe, has usually leaned decidedly toward free trade doctrines, but it says that its arguments as above given, though they may sound like strange doctrine to the free-traders, yet the facts confirm them, and it is important to bear the facts in mind. Figures and statistics are presented by the Bulletin to prove that in those years when exports from California have been largest the money realized from them has been smaller in amount than in other years when the exports were not so large. The fallacy of depending on a foreign market for the sale of breadstuffs is thus stated by the Bulletin. The Bulletin adds: 'Is any further evidence needed to prove that our best markets are at home, and that it is absolutely necessary for our agricultural prosperity that we should build up large manufacturing interests and diversified industries to create a home market?' The same observations and questions will apply with equal force in Oregon.

Many had supposed that the Herald under its new editorial management, would not say quite such foolish things as has been its wont for some time past, but the 'leader' of yesterday morning quite dispels that supposition. For we find that paper arguing (!) that the reason why Mr Holladay has not discharged the white laborers on the railroad and employed Chinese, is because he dares not, since the State has gone Democratic! Think of the utter absurdity of such a statement. What difference does it make in the matter of employing Chinese labor whether the State is under Democratic or Republican rule? Is Mr Ladd or any other person to be deterred from employing Chinese now that the State has gone Democratic? Mr Holladay, says the Herald, feels that he has given grave provocation to the ruling party of Oregon and he dares not further exasperate it. Now what injury could the ruling party do him or any other man similarly situated? What injury could it do the Oregon Iron Company, if that Company should employ Chinese labor to smelt iron. This is supposed to be a country where a man's rights are protected by law and he can employ any sort of labor or no labor at all just as it suits him. He is not required to settle with the Democratic party but with the people who work for him. The Herald's disquisition on this subject very much resembles some of the productions of Grasshopper Jim.

We hear that Mr Savage of Wasco county has been in this city for the last day or two. It is said that he claims to be elected to the Legislature notwithstanding the heavy frauds committed by his party in Wasco.

The New York Election

The New York Herald is a paper which is free and independent in its discussions and has not, as for any party. But some of the Democratic papers are claiming that the result of the recent election in New York foreshadows the election of a Democratic President in 1872 and to this end papers the Herald makes answer that the election does not possess any such significance and is entitled to no political significance whatever. It presents the case in this way. The late election in this State has simply been by default on a very short vote. The number of the State elections of 1862 and like a good many in 1867. Including New York. We remember that in 1862 when Seymour was elected Governor of this State on the platform of a more vigorous prosecution of the war after Pennsylvania had gone for the Democrats by default, they were fully convinced that they had the Presidential election of 1864 in their hands and they perhaps have not forgotten that after their astonishing successes in 1867 beginning with Connecticut and culminating in New York with a majority of fifty thousand they were sure that the backbone of the Republican party was broken and that with almost any ticket they were good for the Presidency in 1868. How far they fell short in their lively expectations and estimates in 1864 and in 1868 we need not here exhibit. The lesson taught by these elections and by all the others since 1856 involving national issues and national candidates including Congress, is this—that the results of intermediate elections of a purely local character signify in a national view little or nothing.

But if we concede New York as a Democratic State that fact amounts to little or nothing in determining the future of parties and the Presidential succession. For Gen Grant triumphed by an overwhelming vote in 1868 though New York was against him and the Republican party can spare New York and still make sure of its triumph in 1872 as it did in 1868.

Congressman Axtell of San Francisco furnishes another example of that class of Democratic politicians who, while they go strongly for free trade for other people always have some industry in their own districts for which they want to secure protection. Mr Axtell has made a speech urging a high duty on blankets, in order to protect the woolen mills of his district. Almost every Democratic "free trader" in Congress has advocated high duties on the products of those special industries which his constituents have an interest in. But they are all down on "tariff monopoly!" Protection is an odious doctrine of "Radicalism!"

The city of San Francisco and Democratic party have to fight and a monopoly have with the Southern Pacific Railroad Company. There is a little bit of interesting history connected with this matter. On the 5th April last at a meeting of the county Democratic Committee of San Francisco a resolution was offered reciting that whereas it was to monopolies and to the voting away of the people's money was one of the cardinal principles of the party therefore be it resolved that the Democracy would oppose the proposition to give the said railroad company a grant. But this resolution was quashed by the cautious members of the Committee and the party deserted the principle and usage of opposition to granting away the people's money to monopolies and now we have it that the measure has been ratified by a vote of the people of that Democratic city. A clearer case of going back on an ancient land mark has rarely been seen.

We think it safe to flatter ourselves that there is some tribulation in store for the smart Democratic managers of Wasco county. In carrying things with a high hand so as to make sure of ruling out enough Republican votes to elect their ticket they performed one piece of work that will be pretty certain to give them some trouble. The votes of a considerable number of persons eligible under the fifteenth amendment were rejected. They who did this will stand a chance of hearing of a law designed to punish those who obstruct the operation of that amendment. The penalty is sufficiently severe to make the subject one of some little interest to the aforesaid smart Democratic managers in Wasco. The United States Attorney will we trust attend to that little matter of business. That Wasco clique may be put in a fair way to learn that some things can be done as well as other.

There can be no doubt that in several of the counties where Democrats have had full control of the machinery of the election many fraudulent votes have been polled. Republicans should make a note of every case of the kind, so that the record may be made use of in case it is wanted. Let the names of persons voting fraudulently be preserved, and let a record also be kept of the names of persons entitled to vote, whom the Democratic judges wantonly ruled out. We have heard already of many cases of both descriptions.

The Republicans of Idaho have made considerable gains. They have carried Owyhee county for the first time and elected their sheriff in Boise county. Other gains are expected. The Republicans have never before elected an officer in the Territory.

CITY.

The Common Ordinance.—At the last meeting of the City Council an ordinance was introduced providing for a contract with the Portland Bridge Company for the erection of a bridge across the Willamette river. It was read the first and second time and referred to a committee. It is understood that it will be reported back as soon as the committee has been printed on slips, and the ordinance has been distributed throughout the community, in order that all persons interested may have an opportunity to examine it critically and to petition or remonstrate in regard to its provisions, before final action by the Council. The ordinance sets out, in the preamble, the main objections of the act of Congress investing the Portland with the bridge franchise. It gives the consent of the city that the Bridge Company may build across the river, in substance, as is contemplated by the plans of the bridge as is contemplated by the ordinance, and in accordance with the subjoined plans of the ordinance.

It provides that within six months the Bridge Company shall present to the Council accurate maps and plats, to the satisfaction of the Council, showing the location of all vessels, steamers and craft that usually lie and lay up and down the river. It provides that the draws shall be so constructed as to admit, on application, the free passage of all such vessels, craft, etc., and that the manner in which the draws are to be opened, and the time they shall remain open, and the manner in which the draws are to be opened, and the time they shall remain open into and through the bridge, is contemplated by the ordinance. It provides that within [illegible] days after the passage of the ordinance, the Bridge Company shall present to the Council accurate maps and plats, to the satisfaction of the Council, showing the location of all vessels, steamers and craft that usually lie and lay up and down the river. It provides that the draws shall be so constructed as to admit, on application, the free passage of all such vessels, craft, etc., and that the manner in which the draws are to be opened, and the time they shall remain open into and through the bridge, is contemplated by the ordinance. It provides that within [illegible] days after the passage of the ordinance, the Bridge Company shall present to the Council accurate maps and plats, to the satisfaction of the Council, showing the location of all vessels, steamers and craft that usually lie and lay up and down the river. It provides that the draws shall be so constructed as to admit, on application, the free passage of all such vessels, craft, etc., and that the manner in which the draws are to be opened, and the time they shall remain open into and through the bridge, is contemplated by the ordinance. It provides that within six months

The Pugnacious Purp

A man he owned a fighting dog—
A hot tailed, snarly Turk—
And that there purp got that there man
In many an ole's worse.

For all the man he owned it for muscle,
And for long years built the bills,
He to kick that dog-goned automite
It was sure to raise a spill.

A woman she owned a Thomas cat
That lit at fifteen pound;
And the other cats got up and slid
When that there cat was 'round.
The man and his dog came along one day
Where the woman she did dwell;
And the purp growled for the cat he'd eat,
Then went for the cat like hell.

He tried for to chaw the neck of the cat,
But the cat he wouldn't be chawed;
So he lit on the back of that there cat,
And bit and chawed and clawed.
Oh! the hair it flew, and the purp he yowled,
As the claws went into his side,
And chunks of flesh were pooh'd from his back,
That he flunnisted and skooted.

The man he ripped, and cussed, and swore
As he gathered a big brick bat
That he would be sure and certainly
If he didn't kill that cat,
But the woman allowed she'd be blest if she did,
And snatched up the old skillet,
Whack she fried, and peppered his diaphragm
With third shot number one.

They toted him home on a window blind
And the doctors dared him up,
But he never was known to fight again
Or to own another pup.
Folks may turn up their snouts at this rhyme,
I don't care a cuss for that
All I wanted to show is that fighting dogs
May table the wrong Tom cat.

Indian Tribes Their Treatment.

[From the Sacramento Union.]

The report of Parker, Commissioner of Indian Affairs, communicated to Congress recently, estimates the whole number of Indians in the United States at 278,577. They are distributed among the States and Territories as follows:

New York	4,991	Wyoming	2,500
Michigan	5,149	Idaho	6,100
Wisconsin	9,351	Utah	12,800
Minnesota	6,460	Colorado	7,000
Iowa	392	New Mexico	19,500
North Carolina	2,000	Arizona	30,000
Florida	500	Nevada	13,000
Texas	900	California	21,000
Kansas	9,329	Oregon	10,000
Nebraska	6,485	Washington	15,000
Utah Territory	54,638	Indiana	400
Dakota	33,800	Alaska	75,000
Montana	11,703

This grand aggregate is made up of fifty three tribes. The California Indians are not divided into their various original tribes, nor those of Alaska. The once most formidable tribes who inhabited the State of Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky, Illinois and Iowa, have dwindled to shadows of what they were half a century ago. Thus we find the Delawares and Shawnees so few in numbers as not to be worth stating. They are now incorporated with the Cherokees. Twenty years ago they owned a reservation in Kansas which is now worth $5,000,000. Of the Seminoles but 500 are left in Florida, and 5,106 in the Indian Territory. There are but 400 of the Stockbridges left; and 1,250 covers the strength of the four once mighty tribes—Miamis, Kickapoos, Iowas and Wyandotts. Of the Sacs and Foxes, ruled over by Black Hawk and Keokuk, there are 84 in Missouri, 654 in Kansas and 262 in Iowa. Of the Pawnees, who twenty five years ago were the most formidable Indians of the Plains north of the Kansas river, except the Sioux, there is now the miserable remnant of 2,300. And so it runs all through the list of tribes that a quarter of a century ago were best known to the whites as warriors and mighty hunters. They have almost vanished from the earth. The Creeks, Choctaws and Cherokees, who early adapted themselves to the habits of civilization, are still comparatively strong. But were it not for the additions made to the Indian population—as by the 75,000 in Alaska and the 47,000 in California and Oregon, with the 37,000 in Arizona—we should not have one-quarter the Indians now as there were in the year 1840.

Of all these fifty three tribes and consolidations of tribes, but over six or eight remained hostile at the time of the Commissioner's report. These are the Blackfeet (of whom the Piegans are only a branch), the Sioux, Cheyennes, Arrapahoes, Kiowas, Comanches and Apaches. The number of these are as follows:

Sioux	30,000
Blackfeet	6,000
Apaches of New Mexico	3,000
Apaches of Arizona (as over estimated)	8,000
Cheyennes	1,500
Arrapahoes	1,153
Kiowas	1,928
Comanches	2,833
Total hostile	64,124

From these may now be deducted the 30,000 Sioux, who will doubtless, through Red Cloud (Mahpiatolutah), make an enduring peace, and also the 6,000 Blackfeet, who, since the terrible punishment they received last winter, have no fight left in them. The Cheyennes, Arrapahoes, Kiowas and Comanches are all disposed to peace and must soon succumb to the reservation system. There would then be left 11,000 Apaches as hostile tribes. For the management of these—living in New Mexico and Arizona—four or five regiments of troops may be required for the next five years. After that, by means of railways now building, they must yield to civil habit or become extinct. A quarter of a century ago the Comanches were estimated at 15,000. Now there is but 2,833.[1] The tribes of the Texas Rangers, starvation by the loss of their game, the rank pox and whisky, have done the work most effectually for this grand tribe of warriors who as late as 1840 held an empire as large as France under their sway.

Sulphur in the West Indies.

The New York Standard, a new and lively daily paper under the charge of John Russell Young, publishes the following important paragraph:

Sulphur is a substance which has, if not a fragrant, at least a decided odor, and is useful both internally and externally. Besides these purely personal uses, it is largely used in this country in the manufacture of sulphuric acid, and for other manufacturing purposes. As a matter of course, the source of supply becomes a matter of consequence, especially to proprietors of extensive manufacturing works. Heretofore, the principal source of supply has been Sicily, which island has furnished to the world the supply of sulphur deposits observed there. What we may, however, to know, and to be the first to announce, that a source of supply has been discovered much nearer home. It is in the island of Saba, which is one of the Dutch West Indies, and is situated about one hundred and ten miles south-east from St. Thomas, and fifty miles south-west from St. Martha's. This is Italian prototype, the island is of volcanic origin, being about eleven miles in circumference, and at its highest point about two thousand eight hundred feet above the sea. Though a Dutch possession, the language spoken by its two thousand inhabitants is chiefly English. The sulphur deposit referred to was discovered by an enterprising New Yorker, who found himself there on a search for health, and, finding indications of sulphur ore, set to work with pick and shovel, and, with the help of some natives, quarried two sloop loads, which he brought here and submitted to analysis. The report of the chemists employed is to the effect that, while the Sicily ores only yield about thirty per cent. of brimstone for the ore consumed, the Saba ore yields an average of over sixty per cent. Adding to this the fact that the island is only about fifteen hundred miles from New York, it will be seen that this is an important discovery, and it need not be wondered at that steps have already been taken to secure leases of the best tracts of this island. We understand that this has been done, and that the importation of crude brimstone will soon be commenced. Together with the Louisiana sulphur beds this mine will undoubtedly drive Sicilian sulphur from our market.

A COSTLY RAILROAD.—The most costly piece of railroad in the United States, if not in the world, is in the suburbs of Philadelphia, and was built by the Pennsylvania Central and Camden and Amboy railroad companies several months ago. It is only three miles in length, and yet it cost three million of dollars. It extends from Mantua Junction, near West Philadelphia, across the Schuylkill river, to a point in the northern part of Philadelphia proper, where it intersects with the Camden and Amboy road, thus forming an unbroken track for both roads, so that no transfer is necessary for the through passengers to New York. The costliness of the road was owing chiefly to the fact that it runs through so much property in the city, and the companies were obliged to purchase, from private parties, not only much valuable real estate, but numerous costly buildings, which were pulled down to make a path for the remorseless "iron horse." But the two companies needed the connection link, and they were determined to have it at whatever cost. It is a great convenience to them, and also to the public at large. Such is modern railroad enterprise.—Chicago Journal.

A DIVORCE BY PIPE AND HER MARRIAGE REMARKET AFTER THIRTY THREE YEARS' SEPARATION.

[From the Portage County (Ohio) Democrat.]

A story of real life, surrounded somewhat in romance, runneth in this wise: About thirty-three years ago, a young lady about fifteen years of age, beautiful and accomplished, but specially noted for her musical talent, for she could sing like a bird, was wooed and won by a young mechanic who was also a noted singer. If the coin did not prove harmonious, real affection on evidence of about equal footing for support and protection. A committee was selected from other with the estranged parties, one of the committees men was the Hon. S. R. Tilden, of Cleveland. This committee effected nothing in the way of reconciliation. The husband went his way. A divorce was obtained, but I have not been advised which was the complaining party. A son was born, in whom the pride of the mother was centered more and more as he grew from infancy to childhood, and from childhood to manhood, for she was in him rewarded more than mothers often are. The father married again, and reared a family of children. His name often appears in print, for he is an author of music and a singer of note. More than thirty years have dragged their crooked lengths along and disappeared behind eternity's vail. During all this time, I believe, the actors in this drama met not, but strange things do happen. The second wife sickened and died; after awhile the husband sickened, and as he lay upon his bed, uncertain of the future, memory called up the past in long review; some little wrongs may have tingled his conscience—at all events, he longed to see her around whose life he had wantonly wrapped the dark mantle. Efforts were made to get her by his bedside; they were successful; a reconciliation was effected, and she administered to him during his indisposition. When sufficiently convalescent, together they visited her old home, kindly words were spoken, the dark past forgotten, assurances of fealty in the future made, and again the band was promised. Last night, May 5th, they were married—the life journey has early begun, so soon disconnected, was commenced anew.

Indianapolis some time since gave $65,000 of its bonds to the Cincinnas and Indianapolis Junction Railway Company in order to secure the location of its shops in that city. Now the company talks of building the shops at Connersville, and Indianapolis threatens to bring suit for $100,000.

Instructions.

Containing conditions to be incorporated in the contract to the extent the Department may deem proper.

The Special Agents of the Postoffice Department will exhibition of it or experiments, also Post-office Stamps and hand bills, which will be made to accompany original bids.

The route agents of the Department, should it appear to them, to be conveyed without charge, and for their exclusive use while traveling with the mails, as compendious apartment as to be provided by the contractor, under the direction of the Postmaster General.

No pay will be made for trips not performed, and for each of such omissions, not satisfactorily explained, three times the pay of the trip may be deducted. For arrivals or for behind time at the terminal points without sufficient cause, and not satisfactorily excused, one-fourth of the compensation for the trip is subject to forfeiture. Deduction will also be ordered for a grade of performance inferior to that specified in the contract. For repeated delinquencies of the kind, enlarged penalties, proportioned to the nature thereof and importance of the mail, may be made.

Fines will be imposed, unless the delinquency be promptly and satisfactorily explained by certificates of postmasters or other citizens of unimpeachable character, for failing to arrive on contract time. For omitting to take the mail from a celerity at intermediate points. For suffering it to be wet, injured, destroyed, robbed or lost, and for refusing, after demand, to carry it when duly presented by the contractor. For leaving out or condemned in running, a conveyance on the route.

The Postmaster General may annul the contract for repeated failures or neglect to perform it, or for violation of the foregoing laws, or disobeying the instructions of the department.

The Postmaster General may order an increase of the service by allowing therefor a pro rata increase in the contract pay. He may change the schedule of departures, provided that by so doing the running time be not abridged.

Each bid must be guaranteed by two responsible persons certified to by such as a postmaster or a judge of a court of record. The department reserves the right to reject any bid which may be deemed extravagant and also to disregard the bids of failing contractors and bidders.

For forms of proposal, guarantee and certificate, and also for other instructions as to the conditions to be embraced in the contract, &c. see advertisement of September 30, 1869, inviting pro osals for mail service in California and Oregon and Washington, to be found at the principal postoffices.

Bids should be sent in sealed envelopes, superscribed, "Mail Proposals, Route No. 15421, Washington Territory," and addressed to the Second Assistant Postmaster General.

JNO. A. J. CRESWELL,
Postmaster General.
